"While the baseball fans of the country will readily admit that the recent pitching of Rube Marquard of the Giants was a wonderful performance, I am inclined to believe that the real merit of his feat is not so thoroughly understood," says Overall, the former major league twirler. selling of the last hour, a ch caused rapid diminishing of quoted values, net losses in representative issues ranging from two to four points. No news accompanied the decline, which was doubtless aided by the operations of the short interest.

The setback was again due in part to foreign influences. London's market was weak, a natural condition in view of the liberal selling there for Berlin and Paris. French rates suffered another severe decline and private advices received by international bankers indicated extreme uneasiness at the French capital, arising from latest developments in the Balkans.

The local market opened with some moderate losses, these being partially regained in the early afternoon, when it became known that the United States supreme court would not hand down an immediate decision in the so-called anthracite cases. The profes-

After the close it developed that Paris and other European exchanges were still at work clearing up last week's "wreckage." It was intimated that numerous private settlements were being made in London, Paris and Berlin to cover up some of the weak spots created by the recent liquidation, and that further decrease measures might be recessary to recent Bonds were materially affected by the declines in stocks. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,650,000.

But luck must be strongly backed up with class before it can become an effective feature in any performance upon the diamond. When class enters into competition, the element of luck is bound to crop out at some stages and probably turn the tide of battle one way or the other. Pitching success depends almost as much upon the fluck of the game' as upon the ability of the pischer, for no bitched can win a game unsided. no pitched can win a game unaided.

Line them all up in a row, the best of the lot. Here they are—Johnson, Wood, Waish, Marquard, Mathewson, Tesreau, Alexander, Rucker, Coombs, Plank and Gregg. Who leads the list? Well, you can havegyour pick, but we'll take Johnson—Waiter Johnson of Washington. Take the base hit figures—Wood in 40 games allowed 242 hits. Marquard in 40 games allowed 274 hits. But Johnson in 40 games allowed only 229 hits. In 46 games the great Senatorial star averaged only five hits to the contest, while Wood averaged about six and Marquard about seven.

Wood fanned 230, Marquard 186, and Johnson 286. The latter allowed less runs to the game for an average than Line them all up in a row, the best Johnson 286. The latter allowed less runs to the game for an average than any slabman in either circuit. Ed Walsh had no chance to show his true worth as a winner, as Callahan sent him into 58 games—18 more than either Wood or Marquard faced and 12 more than Johnson was called upon to handle. There are 900,000 or more deaf people in London, according to the London Daily Mirror. These will shortly be enabled to hear perfectly all the plays produced at the many London theaters. An invention somewhat similar to a telephone has been perfected by G. R. A. Hope, and the New theater already has several instruments installed. In a month every seat in the theater will be equipped with a little box similar to those from which opera glasses are obtained, and by placing a sixpence in the slot an
